Sherman's Pursuit of Hood-Gen. Minty Defeats the Enemy-Capture of the Rebel General Young-A Large Number of Prisoners Taken-Roddy's Command Charged and Routed-He Loses the Whole of His Artillery-Gen. Hoed's Rear Overtaken and Whipped-His Army on the Retreat Southward-Sherman Close on His Beels.

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 18 .- The latest news from Sherman's army is that there is no enemy in sight of his force. Small bodies, snpposed to have been detached from Hood's army, are hovering around our front. Hood, with the main body of his army, is supposed to be retreating southward. One of our army corps was at Lafayette yesterday. Later and Important.

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 19.—Capt. March, of the 4th United States regulars, has just arrived from Villanow, which point he left yesterday He reports that Col. Minty's brigade of cavalry had met the enemy in force, and, after a severe fight, our troops charged again and routed the rebels, capturing Gen. Young and a large number of prisoners. On the 12th instant the same cavalry charged

Roddy's command, at Rome, with the saber, killed and captured a number, taking all his artillery, and scattering the remainder of the enemy in all directions. On the 17th our advance came upon Hoed's rear guard, and whipped it, and drove it out Yesterday, Gen. Sherman started in pursuit of the rebels, who were retreating southward via Bloomtown Valley.

The Robbery of Banks at St. Albans, Vt. ST. ALBANS, VT., Oct. 19.-The invasion of the town took place to-day. Some twenty or thirty-five armed desperadoes, supposed to be in rebel employ, from Canada made an assault on several banks about 4 o'clock this afternoon. The National Bank was robbed of about $50,000-mostly in bills. St. Albans Bank was robbed of between $70,000 and $80,000, and Franklin County Bank of a considerable amount. Some twenty horses were also seized by the desperadoes and carried off. Several citizens who resisted this outrage were deliberately shot. Two were wounded seriously, and it is feared fatally. E. J. Morrison, a contractor, C. H. Huntington, a jeweler, and several others are reported slightly injured. The raiders threatened to burn the town, and left in the direction of Canada. A large party of armed citizens have gone in pur-

The man, named Morrison, who was shot through the body to-day, has since died.

Mosby's Black Flag-His Late Raid.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 19 .- Lieutenant Wm. M. Bunkle, formerly a Philadelphia reporter, informs me that Mosby is concentrating his forces south of Leesburg. White is between Leesburg and the Potomac. It was his forces that made the late depredations in Maryland. Lieutenant Bunkle has in his possession the celebrated black flag, the one the rebels swore to give no quarter under. It was captured by one of Gen. Tyler's scouts. It has a single star in a black ground, with the word "Winchester" inscribed thereon, and in lead pencil there is written, "No quarter." Gen Tyler intends presenting the flag to the city of Philadelphia, and Lieut. Bunkle will deliver it to Mayor Henry this evening.

The town of Poolesville was not destroyed as reported. The rebels committed many outrages, such as setting fire to canal boats, robbing people, &c. They robbed the post offices at Adamstown and Licksville, and scattered the letters they stole along the highway.

BISHOP WHITTINGHAM.-It is understood that the trustees of the General Theological Seminary (Episcopal) of New York, propose to elect Bishep Whittingham, of the Diocese of Maryland, to the vacant chair of History. in that institution. This fact, coupled with the statement that he will probably accept the position, if tendered, has caused much uneasiness and a general expression of regret among the loyal portion of the Diocese. While they feel gratified at the compliment thus paid to that distinguished churchman, they feel that his resignation of the Episcopate at this time would afford a great triumph to the disloyal people of the Diocese who have waged such bitter and unrelenting war on Bishop Whittingham, from the moment he took his patriotic stand in support of the Government and on the side of the Union.

In the natural order of succession, the position vacated by Bishop W. will be filled by a elergyman whose sympathies with the rebellion are unmistakable, and in the event indicated the power of the Episcopate will be unquestionably wielded in aid of the rebellion.

We learn that earnest protests addressed to Bishop Whittingham against his resignation of the Episcopate are being numerously signed throughout the Diocese, and it is to be hoped that he will reconsider the purpose it he has

INDIANA CONGRESSMEN.—The Congressmen elect in Indiana stand eight Union to three Democrats. The following is the result in the several districts: 1-W. E. Niblack, D; 2-M. C. Kerr, D; 3-

Raiph Hill, U; 4—J. H. Farquhar, U; 5—Geo W. Julian, U; 6—Eben Dumont, U; 7—D. W. Vorhees, D; 8—Godlove S. Orth, U; 9—Schuyler Colfax, U; 10—J. H. Defrees, U; 11—Thos. N. Stillwell, U. Schuyler Colfax's majority in the Ninth District is 1,629—a gain of nearly 1,400. The enemy made a most desperate fight, and were hopeful and zealous, but the popularity of Colfax and the patriotism of the people were too much for them. Captain Farquhar made an extraordinary run in the Fourth District, overcoming a majority of 2,481. The Indiana delegation in the present Congress stand 7 Democrats to 4 Union. The next will be 8 Union to three Democrats. If the frauds charged against Vorhees can be established, he will be turned out.

DEATH OF MRS. WHITELEY .- Mrs. Georgiana Whiteley, the wife of Colonel L. A. Whiteley, and principal Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, died to-day at the residence of her husband, in Georgetown, after an illness of her husband, in Georgetown, after an liness of several months, of consumption. The deceased was an estimable Christian lady, and was beloved by a large circle of friends, as well as by those more immediately connected with her, to whom she had been endeared by her many excellent qualities and kindness of heart .- Washington Correspondence of the N.Y. Herald, October 19.

Official War Bulletin. Full Particulars of Sheridan's Great Victory Over Longstreet.

Longstreet Attacks in the Morning-He Captures Twenty Guns and drives us four Miles-Sheridan drives him in turn and Captures 43 Guns, 2,000 Prisoners and 100 Wagons and Ambulances!

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 20-10.30 a. m. 5 Major General Dix, New York:

Another great battle was fought yesterday at Cedar Creek, threatening at first great disaster, out finally resulting in a victory for the Union forces under General Sheridan, more splendid than any heretofore achieved.

The Department was advised yesterday evening of the commencement of the battle by the following telegrams: "RECTORTOWN, VA., 4 P. M., Oct. 19, 1864 .-

Major Gen. H. W. Halleck, Chief of Staff:-

"Heavy cannonading has recommenced in the Valley, and is new going on. "C. C. Augur, Major General." "HARPER'S FERRY, VA., Oct. 19, 1864-6.40 P. M .- "Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War:- Firing at front has been continuous during the day. The direction seemed at intervals to be to left of Winchester, as if at Berry's Ferry. No news from front. "JNO. D. STEVENSON, Brigadier Gen'l." "HARPER'S FERRY, 8.45 p. m., Oct 19, 1864 .-Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: The enemy attacked our army with great impetuosity this morning at daylight. The attack was made on left of Eighth Corps, and was at first successful, they capturing some guns, prisoners and wagons. Our line was reformed, and heavy fighting continued through the day. "Sheridan, reported at Winchester this morning, went out to the front. The particulars received are not official, and are not favorable though no serious disaster could have occurred without direct news from Sheridan. "Respectfully,

"JNO. D. STEVENSON, Brig. Gen." Matters remained in the doubtful state represented by the foregoing telegrams, until this morning, at half-past nine, when the following telegram was received, unofficially reporting the great victory won by Sheridan's army: "HARPER'S FERRY, VA., Oct. 20, 1864 .- Hon.

Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War: News from Sheridan's headquarters at midnight, to the effect that the enemy surprised our forces yesterday morning, driving the command in some confusion this side of Newton, capturing artila lery and prisoners. "Sheridan arrived on the field, reorganized our forces, and drove the enemy beyond Strasburg, capturing, it is reported, forty-three pieces of artillery, one hundred wagons and ambulances, and 2,000 prisoners. Rout of enemy said to be complete. This is not official, but I think reliable. "J. D. STEVENSON, Brig. Gen." A few minutes later the following official report of his victory was received from Major General Sheridan: "CEDAR CREEK, 10 p. m., Oct. 19, 1864 .-Lieut. Gen. Grant, City Point: I have the honor to report that my army at Cedar Creek was attacked this morning before daylight, and my left was turned and driven in confusion. In fact, most of the line was driven in confusion, with the loss of twenty pieces of artillery. I hastened from Winchester, where I was on my return from Washington, and found the armies between Middletown and Newtown, having been driven back about four miles. I here took the affair in hand, and quickly united the Corps, formed a compact line of battle just in time to repulse an attack of the enemy, which was handsomely done at 1 p. m. "At 3 p. m., after some changes of the cav alry from the left to the right flank, I attacked with great vigor, driving and routing the enemy, capturing, according to last report, fortythree pieces of artillery and very many prisoners. I do not yet know the number of my casualties, or the losses of the enemy. Wagon oner in our hands, severely and perhaps mortally wounded. "I have to regret the loss of General Bidwill, killed, and Generals Wright, Grover and Ricketts wounded - Wright slightly wounded, Affairs at the time looked badly, but, by the gallantly of our brave officers and men, disaster has been converted into a splendid victory. Darkness again intervened to shut off greater results. I now occupy Strasburg. As soon as obtained, I will send you further particulars.

trains, ambulances, and caisons in large numbers are in our possession. They also burned

some of their trains. Gen. Ramseur is a pris-

"P. H. SHERIDAN, Major General." The battle was fought on the same day (19th of the month.) that witnessed Sheridan's victory in September. What forces and their number were opposed to General Sheridan, are not yet reported to the Department, but the boldness, vigor, and success of the attack strongly indicate that a heavy reinforcement had been sent from Richmond, with the expectation of fulfilling Longstreet's boast to smash up Sheridan. Longstreet was known to be in the valley, and had assumed command of the rebel army, and confident hopes of an overwhelming disaster to the Union army, were boastfully expressed for several days back by the rebel au thorities in Baltimore and Washington.

REBEL DIABOLISM! - MURDERS IN COLD BLOOD BY MOSBY'S GANG. Information has been received here that about two o'clock Wednesday morning a gang of Mosby's men, visited Annandale and Falls

Church, committing some of the most devilish deeds of cold-blooded murder ever recorded. At Falls Church they seized a quiet, inoffenive man, by the name of Reed, a settler from the North, dragged him into the woods, and after shooting him, finished by cutting his throat from ear to ear. A negro was shot in the same cold-blooded manner, at the same time, but the ball did not penetrate his skull, and he escaped with life. Mr. Reed was a member of he Home Guard, and the guerrillas said they meant to serve every Home Guard they caught in the same manner.

The guerrillas stole the horses of the hospital at Falls Church, and committed a number of deeds of wanton cruelty there. At Annandale, they captured four pickets of the 16th New York cavalry, and dragged them to the woods, where they cut the throats of the unfortunate men, in the same cold-blooded style in which they murdered Mr. Reed.

They gave as an excuse for these murderous acts that some of their gang had been badly treated by Union troops.

THE LATE MILITARY ARRESTS -- Opening of the Trial of Arrested Parties on Charge of Furnishing Goods to the Rebels-Messrs. Johnson d. Sutton, Dry Goods Dealers, up To-day .- At the Military Commission in session on F street, this afternoon, Messrs. Johnson & Sutton, dry goods dealers on 7th street, together with the clerks in their establishment, were on trial. charged with furnishing goods to the rebels. General Doubleday is President of the Commisson, but General Fessenden presides in the absence of General Doubleday. Col. Foster is Judge Advocats.

Messrs. Johnson and Sutton were present, as was their chief clerk, Mr. Henniss, all of whom plead not guilty. Messrs. A. J. Little and S. Wood appear as counsel for the prison-

Pardon Worsley being sworn, in reply to the interrogations of the Judge Advocate, testified: he was a trader between this city and various points in Loudon county, Virginia, which points were in possession of Moseby's guerrillas; first saw Johnson in May last at his store; went there to buy goods; asked Messrs. Johnson & Sutton to fill orders for him; told them he was going to Mosby's battalion with them: they filled his orders for him; goods comprised all kinds of dry goods, principally gloves, gauntlets, shirts, flannel and cloth known as "Confederate gray;" the orders had attached to them the names of the parties whom they were for; goods were packed in bundles which were placed in boxes; he (Worsley) came to the store of Messrs. J. & S. for the goods, carrying them away in a wagon; took them to Mosby; settled for the last trip last Friday. The witness was asked to name prominent parties whose names are attached to the orders, and he mentioned Adjutant Blackwell, of Mosby's staff, Capt. McGeorge, Lt. Lavender, of Mosby's battalion, and R. P. Buckner, with whom Mosby's family are boarding; some of the goods were for Mrs Mosby, marked "M. H. B." Witness told Messrs. Johnson & Sutton what "M. H. B." meant. A pile of papers was here laid before witness, which he was asked to look at; said they were bills for some of the first goods he purchased. Another package was laid before him, which he stated, after examination, contained the orders for the last goods purchased. Some of them were the original orders drawn in Virginia; witness had conversed with all hands at the store of Messrs. Johnson & Sutton: usually did his trading with Henniss.

Cross-examined by Mr. Little:-Was born in Connecticut; lived in Massachusetts when the war broke out; had been running goods since about the 10th of May last. Had a partner in the beginning, his wife was now connected with him; his wife had been in Washington with him; his wife went with him on his first visit to the store of Messrs. J. & S.: a Miss Fanny Nolan, of Virginia, went with him there in June, she purchased some things there; when he first went there he introduced himself; showed Messrs. Johnson & Sutton a permission from Federal authorities to sell fruit and vegetables in the vicinity of Washington; he told them he had a permit to peddle goods in the Federal lines and that he sometimes "slipped through" to Fairfax; told them the first time he went there, where he wanted to take the goods; he had filled about ten different orders. He said, to make the story short, at the time of the threatened invasion of Washington he had a lot of goods in a warehouse in this city; told Johnson & Sutton that he was going to try to get his goods "through;" they told him to be very careful; the last purchase was settled for last week; every package had on it the names of those who ordered it; always had two bills made out, one with the prices doubled; the smaller amount was the price he paid-the larger, what he represented to the rebels as the price. He was asked if he had connection with the Government during this time. To this the Judge Advocate objected, and the court was cleared to settle the point. After the doors were thrown open, the Court uled that the question was a proper one, and that the witness must state his connection with

The witness (Worseley) stated that he was engaged about the 1st of April, and sent out by the Government. Sold goods to Mosby and his officers under the direction and by the knowledge of the Government, and he always informed the Government of what he did. Witness' wife was also in the same business, and ness' wife was also in the same business, and he was compensated by the Government. Witness had made money selling goods, but had not divided proceeds with the Government. Witness gave bonds to the Government and they took his honor for the faithful performance of his duties. There were other parties with witness besides his wife when he went to Johnson & Sutton's. Lt. Stone was with witness upon one occasion. Johnson & Sutton never used bill heads when they made out bills for witness, but they when they made out bills for witness, but they doubled the amount of price of goods purchased, and signed their names to the receipts. There were other men with witness at the store, but they did not know his business. Witness was not recommended to the Government for a detective, but he offered himself and was employed by Gen. Augur. The object of the Govployed by Gen. Augur. The object of the Government in employing witness was to find out blockade runners, and obtain information in the Valley from Meeby and others. Witness had no knowledge of what would be done with the funds he obtained from the rebels for goods. Part of witness's business was to find out the whereabouts of Mosby and give such information to General Augur as would lead to Mosby's capture. Witness met Fannie Nolan at Middlebury, and brought her to this city, and took her to Johnson & Sutton's store. Mr. Johnson never fold witness that store. Mr. Johnson never told witness that there were any other persons buying goods of him who were engaged in the same business as witness. Wimess also brought Mrs. Chanceller from Middlebury to this city, and took her to Johnson & Sutton's store to purchase goods. Witness introduced the lady to Johnson, and he told her be could sell her calicoes as cheap as she could buy them in the city. Mrs. Chan. ce'ter was no "decoy duck," but came in good faith to purchase goods. Fannie Nolan's family are all in the Confederate army

Lieut. H. L. Hunt, of Prevost Marshal Ingraham' office, was next called, and testified that he went with the witness (Worsley.) to the warehouse, and saw there some boxes, two of which were open, containing dry goods, put up in bundles directed to different parties. Witness has been in Johnson & Sutton's store. Was there on the day of arrest, when the doors were closed and the key taken to the Provost Marshal's office. Witness was at the store today, and brought away the books and papers found in the desk.

Several large account books and a number of papers were here shown to the witness, and he identified them as the ones he had taken from the store. Mr. Worseley recalled -Witness went into the cellar of Johnson & Sutton's store after the arrests, and found grey cloth there, such as was usually furnished to witness. It is an unusual thing to find this kind of grey in the city. It was Confederate grey, and witness was of the opinion it could not be found in any other store in the city. Witness inquired at Perry's if they had any, and was told that they had none. Witness has been at Perry's often to buy goods for the Confederates, but they would not double his bills, and witness would not take the goods. The Perry's told witness they had a regular system of selling goods, and that they would not double the amounts for any man. The Perry's knew what he wanted with the goods. On one occasion Johnson told a clerk when he was boxing up some goods to hurry up if he wanted any greenbacks, as he had seen that Mosby had captured a paymaster.

Mr. John W. Thompson was appointed Superintendent of the Naval Laboratory of the Navy Yard, and Mr. John M. McFarland foreman, by the Bureau of Ordnance. Both of these gentlemen have been employed in the Laboratory for a series of years-Mr. Thompson for over fifteen years, and Mr. McFarland since boybood, under the lamented John Clapham; Mr. Thompson for the past eight years filling the position of foreman: and no doubt exists that the Laboratory, which for years past has been noted as one of the most efficient in the country, will, under the administration of these gentlemen, retain its standing for efficiency.
